18. PERSON Of the basic premises that Watson identified in her caring model, five relate to person: A person’s mind and emotions are windows to the soul..... A person’s body is confined in time and space, but the mind and soul are not confined to the physical universe.....

19. PERSON A nurse may have access to a person’s mind, emotions and inner self indirectly through any sphere - mind, body or soul – provided the physical body is not perceived or treated as separate from the mind and emotions and higher sense of self (soul)..... The spirit, inner self, or soul of a person exists in and for itself..... People need each other in a caring, loving way....

20. HEALTH Health refers to unity and harmony within the mind, body and soul. Health is also associated with the degree of congruence between the self as perceived and the self as experienced. Watson noted that illness can result from a troubled inner soul, and illness can lead to disease, but the two concepts do not fall on a continuum and can exist apart from one another.

21. HEALTH Illness is defined as subjective turmoil or disharmony within a person’s inner self or soul at some level or disharmony within the spheres of the person, for example, in the mnd, body and soul, either consciously or unconsciously. Illness connotes a felt incongruence within the person such as an incongruence between the self as perceived and the self as experienced.

22. ENVIRONMENT Watson made use of her 8th carative factor to define environment. ‘Attending to supportive, protective and/or corrective mental, physical, societal and spiritual environments’. In recent discussions, environment is considered in the context of a human-environment field. This field forms an ‘unbroken wholeness and connectedness of all (subject-object-person-environment-nature-universe-all living things)’.

23. NURSING Nursing defined as a noun consists of knowledge, thoughts, values, philosophy, commitment and action, with some degree of passion... related to human care transactions and intersubjective personal human contact with the lived world of the experiencing person.

24. NURSING Nursing defined as a verb is carried out through human care and caring which Watson views as the moral ideal of nursing and consists of transpersonal human-to-human attempts to protect, enhance, and preserve humanity by helping a person find meaning in illness, suffering, pain and existence; to help another gain self-knowledge, control and self-healing wherein a sense of inner harmony is restored regardless of the external circumstances.

25. NURSING As a profession, nursing ‘exists in order to sustain caring, healing and health where, and when, they are threatened biologically, institutionally, environmentally, or politically by local, national or global influences’.

26. HUMAN CARE NURSING Human care nursing involves a reciprocal relationship with the nurse and others as coparticipants in a pattern of subjectivity-intersubjectivity evidenced in ‘consciousness; intentionality; perceptions and lived experiences related to caring, healing and health-illness conditions in a given ‘caring moment’ and experiences or meanings that transcend the moment and go beyond the actual experience’.

27. Think about this..... “ Everytime you smile at someone, it is an action of love, a gift to that person, a beautiful thing”. Mother Teresa 26 August 1910 – 5 September 1997 Catholic nun of Albanian ethnicity and Indian citizenship, who founded the Missionaries of Charity in Calcutta, India in 1950
